AHRC New York City's Referral and Information Center

Your gateway to services and supports

Do you suspect you or your loved one has a developmental disability?
Do you need services from AHRC New York City?
Are you uncertain about evaluations or have eligibility questions?
Do you need services and are unsure of your next steps?

AHRC NYC's Referral And Information Team Has Your Answers
The Referral and Information team are trained to help people who are neurodiverse and their families access needed services.

The RIC is AHRC NYC's starting point for families, self-advocates, and professionals seeking information and services for people who are neurodiverse.

Our Referral and Information Team will...

- Provide you with information about specific services
- Advise you of your next steps and guide you through eligibility requirements for services
- Assist you with acquiring necessary evaluations
- Refer you to programs and services offered by AHRC NYC and other organizations including OPWDD and Care Coordination Organizations

Contact:
212-780-4491 or referrals@ahrcnyc.org

AHRC NYC
A chapter of The Arc New York

AHRC New York City
83 Maiden Lane, New York, NY 10038
AHRCnyc.org

Raymond Ferrigno, Board President
Marco Damiani, Chief Executive Officer

Forbes 2022 AMERICA'S BEST MIDSIZE EMPLOYERS

Forbes 2022 THE BEST EMPLOYERS FOR WOMEN